Governor Earle May Be Witness Early Next Week

Reports At Harrisburg Indicate Earle Will Appear Before Committee

APPEARANCE WILL BE MADE VOLUNTARILY

Secretary Bashore Makes Denial Of Numerous Charges In His Testimony

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Gov. George H. Earle, will take the witness stand early next week to testify before the house graft investigating committee, according to reports current here today.

Although Republican committee members Ellwood J. Turner, Delaware has asked that the governor be subpoenaed to appear, it may be taken for granted that the governor's appearance will be voluntary and that the committee will await his convenience.

To Resume Monday

The committee closed its hearings for the week end and went home today to meet again Monday at 11 a. m. Its final session yesterday afternoon was featured by the testimony of another accused cabinet official Ralph M. Bashore, secretary of labor and industry and secretary of the Democratic state committee.

Bashore denied emphatically and completely the truth of all charges and allegations made against him and his associates, adding his denials to those of public commissioner Arthur Colegrove, federal judge Harry Kalodner, liquor board members Leo Crossan and T. Twining Brooks, and others.

Lawrence county farmers and stock raisers are receiving premium lists for the state farm show to be held at Harrisburg, January 16 to 20. It is understood that quite a number are planning to attend. The prizes which are offered total $42,524. It is probable that some of our farmers will book entries and try to get some of that money.

Do you know that the food a turkey eats is likely to have some effect on the flavor of the meat, especially if the fowl is fed fish meal. Most of us like fish flavor when we eat fish, but few care for a Thanksgiving turkey that tastes fishy. According to experiments made at State College, even as low as one per cent of cod liver oil or ten per cent of fish meal gives the turkey a fishy taste.

Two robins were noticed in the trees on Lincoln avenue yesterday. Either they have been a little late in getting transportation south, or they had come back, thinking it is spring. One don't blame the robins much for becoming a little confused, the kind of weather we have been having lately. While most robins roost south, particularly to the rice fields of Louisiana during the winter, a few of the more hardy ones remain here all winter.

We all like to see money coming into the coffers of our state, but we are not enthused by a report showing that from June 1st to the present time Pennsylvania has received from taxes on malt and brewed liquor, $10,335,285.18. While a goodly portion of this money goes for relief, think of the millions of dollars spent for liquor in order to produce a tax of this magnitude. And if it weren't for these expenditures there would not be so much need for relief.

In a survey made recently it was found that more accidents happen in the home than anywhere else. (Continued On Page Two)

Triplets Are Born Today In New Castle Hospital

About an hour before break of day, the first triplets in the history of local hospitals were born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Prospect street, Rigby P. O., today in the New Castle hospital.

The unusual blessed event started at 5:02 o'clock with the arrival of a girl weighing 5 pounds 2 ounces. Six minutes later another girl was born, weighing 4 pounds 14 ounces. The last of the triplets, a bouncing boy, born at 5:15 o'clock, weighed 5 pound 5 1/2 ounces.

The proud 27-year-old mother and her three infants are doing "quite well," according to hospital attendants. The babies are resting snugly in the hospital nursery, each in a little incubator. The attending physician described the condition of the children as "quite healthy."

Mrs. Johnson has been a patient at the New Castle hospital since November 5. Her condition has been good during her entire stay at the institution, and today she is quite happy after the eventful arrival of three children.

Much thrill was experienced by Sister M. Augusta, night supervisor; Miss Mary Maffley, floor supervisor; Miss Roberta Stutzinger and Miss Christina Rogers, who were all on duty at the time of the arrival of the triplets.

Mr. Johnson is a tin mill employee.

U. S. And Nazi Diplomatic Relations Are Virtually Suspended For Present

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—American diplomatic relations with Nazi Germany, to all practical purposes, were at an end today as a result of nation-wide indignation over Nazi racial and religious persecutions.

America's envoy to Berlin, Hugh R. Wilson, was on the high seas bound for Washington, and an indefinite stay.

German Ambassador Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff hurriedly packed his belongings and prepared to depart for his homeland in answer to a summons from Chancellor Adolf Hitler to remain there until the American envoy again resumes his post, if at all.

No Official Rupture
Officially, there was as yet no rupture of relations, under diplomatic custom relations continued calm and serene, despite the absence of the ambassadors. Until one government or the other formally recalls its ambassador, and closes its embassy, diplomatic relations remain intact.

But actually relations between the two countries were strained to a point never known since the tense days which preceded America's entry in the World War. Trade with (Continued On Page Two)

U. S. Economic Reprisals Seen Against Japan

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The probability of U. S. economic reprisals against Japan for closing the "open door" in China increased to a marked extent today in the wake of Japan's rejection of American protests.

The state department received Japan's reply to the U. S. note of October 6 in silence and refrained from all official comment while it began a thorough study of Tokyo's stand.

In authoritative circles, it was admitted, however, that Japan's reply is unsatisfactory to the American government and constitutes another claim by Japan that the United States is not being discriminated against, while actually the Japanese authorities, as pointed out in great detail in the sharp communication of October 6, are proceeding with thorough wide open to reject American commercial enterprise from China, and to trample on rights guaranteed this country under the Nine-Power Pact and by separate treaties with China.

No immediate step was forecast. The Japanese note, it was learned, will require lengthy study before this country's next move is determined.

FALLING BIRTH RATE IN COUNTRY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Americans are growing bigger in size but fewer in number and wealthy families now tend to have more children than the poor, reports at the two-day meeting of the American Philosophical society showed today.

General body size of the population has increased between three and four inches in the last century, Dr. Harry L. Shapiro, New York anthropologist, reported at the society's sessions. Average height of the future American, he said, may be approximately six feet.

In large cities persons who pay highest rents now tend to have more children than those in lower brackets and professional workers are more prolific than those in business, Frank W. Notestein, Princeton lecturer, told the assembled scientists.

Recent evidence, asserted Notestein, suggests a gradual disappearance of the previous relation between children and financial economic status in the upper economic (Continued On Page Two)

White Raccoon Is Caught By Hunters In James' Party

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—The Philadelphia zoo today had the prospect of acquiring a brand new specimen because of Governor-elect Arthur H. James' vacation trip to Texas.

Telephoning friends from Mineola, Tex., Judge James declared that a white raccoon was captured by a hunting party of which he was a member and that he intends to present the animal to the Zoological Gardens.

The governor-to-be added that he was "thoroughly enjoying" his vacation program of fishing, gunning and boating.

Senior Class Players At High School Score Distinct Hit On Friday

Every now and then Miss Clara Hartshoff, the dramatic coach of the senior high school turns up with a three play winner in the world of make believe. Something like a triple threat man the football coach longs for, the dramatic coach sometimes gets a play that students can do, casting that fits and acting that goes beyond the mere recitation of lines.

So it was Friday night when the graduating class of 1939 presented a three act comedy "Don't Ever Grow Up" by James Reedy. It is a comedy without sophistication, a play without any problems, just good entertainment that high school players can sink their teeth into and shake out every laugh the author intended.

Returning Ambassador Wilson May Have Report On Attitude Of Germany

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Efforts of George Rublee, American member of the Evian intergovernmental refugee committee, to discuss with Berlin authorities the question of removing German Jews from the Reich appeared at a stalemate today.

According to every indication in Berlin, Rublee will "cool his heels" in London for a long time to come if he remains there awaiting the German government's approval of his proposed mission.

German Officials Silent
Official circles in the German capital were absolutely silent on this question but it can't be stated on reliable authority that the government does not intend to receive Rublee.

Nazi authorities have adopted this attitude on the grounds that his mission is a "political gesture" aimed against the third Reich, and is tantamount to interference in German domestic politics.

It was considered unlikely that any formal reply would be issued to Rublee's request to come here, but there were grounds for believing that the intergovernmental committee in London—and possibly the government at Washington, through Ambassador Hugh Wilson—will be informed of Berlin's negative attitude.

Proposal To Liberalize Immigration Laws To Meet Stiff Opposition

By ARTHUR HACHTEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Roosevelt's proposal to liberalize immigration laws to provide a haven for Jewish refugees from Germany and other countries where they are being persecuted will meet stiff opposition in congress, a survey of congressional sentiment today revealed.

Warning came from Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, ranking Republican on the senate foreign relations committee and dean of the senate, that any attempt to relax the immigration barriers will meet "tremendous opposition" in congress.

President's Suggestion
The president's suggestion, at his press conference yesterday, that it would be legal for him to extend indefinitely the six-month visas of tourists, actors and businessmen and women from abroad, met with immediate protest on Capitol Hill.

Rep. Martin Dies (D) of Texas, said it was not his understanding of the immigration law that it empowers the president to give foreigners outside of quota limitations, permission to stay in this country indefinitely by simply extending their visas. To do so would be a violation of the spirit of the law, he contended.

"I do not believe it is desirable to change the immigration laws at this (Continued On Page Two)

Indictments Are Quashed Today

Quash 21 Of Indictments Against Mayor S. Davis Wilson In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Twenty-one indictments returned against Mayor S. Davis Wilson for alleged misbehavior in office today were quashed by Judge Harry S. McDevitt in quarter sessions court.

The bills, returned as a result of a special grand jury investigation of vice and crime in Philadelphia, included an indictment against the mayor for allegedly failing to suppress gambling and bookmaking establishments in the city. A second bill charged misbehavior in office for reputedly "dissuading, hindering and preventing" police witnesses from testifying before the Ruth legislative commission in its investigation of criminal justice administration in Pennsylvania.

In the 19 remaining bills the mayor was accused of removing unlawfully 18 commissioned policemen and detectives and Deputy Chief William Simmler for the fire bureau.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE HALT IS FORCED

The strikers moved out of the hotel.

Army Bombing Plane Crashes In Georgia Swamp

Two Who Were Aboard Are Alive But Badly Hurt When Found

FOUR ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN PLANE

Rescuers Are Able To Account For Only Seven Having Been Aboard Ship

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
LAGRANGE, Ga., Nov. 19.—Crash of a dual-motored army bomber seven miles north of here, shortly before last midnight, today left six army fliers dead, another seriously injured and the whereabouts of an eighth uncertain.

Five of the fliers, none of their bodies as yet identified, were killed instantly when the plane crashed in flames, and the sixth man, Private Joseph J. Nanorowich died shortly before noon in a La Grange hospital.

LAGRANGE, Ga., Nov. 19.—Five Army air officers were killed and two others seriously injured shortly before midnight when their two-motored bombing plane crashed into a swamp about seven miles north of here.

Although army air officials at Maxwell Field near Montgomery, Ala., announced that eight men were supposed to have been aboard the plane, one of the survivors of the tragedy said only seven men were aboard.

Civilian authorities, who rushed the two survivors to a hospital and who later cleared away the wreckage in search of bodies, said they were able to account for only seven persons.

Survivors Identified
The survivors were identified as Second Lieutenant John W. Madore, whose condition was described as critical, and Private Joseph J. Nanorowich, who was less seriously injured.

Six other persons were reported aboard the plane, known as a B-18 bomber, but only five bodies have been recovered. Four of the known dead were burned to death in the plane, while the fifth body was found a short distance beyond almost buried in the earth.

Aboard Plane
In addition to the two survivors, those aboard the plane were listed by Lieut. D. B. Schanney, acting adjutant at Maxwell Field, Ala., as:

Second Lieut. Robert K. Black of the air corps pilot.

Second Lieut. Robert Ross McKelvie of the air reserve.

Second Lieut. Allan M. Howery. Staff sergeant Harry P. Jones.

Lieut. James W. Stewart of the medical corps. Randolph Field, who was en route to his home station.

Corporal Galloway, initials unknown here, who was en route to his home station at Hershey Field, Dallas, Texas.

Although army officials listed Corporal Galloway as among those aboard the plane, civil authorities said his name was not included in the list of persons aboard which was given them by Private Nanorowich.

The plane was en route from Mitchell Field, L. I., to Maxwell Field, near Montgomery.

Private Nanorowich was conscious when brought to the hospital here, but he was unable to give a comprehensive account of just what happened.

Two Die From Auto Injuries

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Nov. 19.—Thrown through the roof of an automobile when it left the highway and overturned, two Morrisdale men, Reiley Carr, 30, and Loy Crowell, 38, died today of fractured skulls.

A third man, Blair Hubler, 25, was injured seriously. Police said the car careened off the highway and catapulted the men through the roof into a field about 100 feet from the car. Hubler said to have been the driver, was taken to the Philadelphia State hospital with a broken leg and body injuries.

Coroner E. E. Richard said the inquiry would be held up pending the outcome of Hubler's injuries. All three men were single.

Chamberlain May Modify Peace Policy

Stronger Policy May Be Adopted

"Inner Cabinet" Seans Four-Power Munich Agreement Result Of Developments

DOUBT VALUE OF MUNICH ACCORD

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and members of his "inner cabinet" scanned the four-power Munich agreement today in the light of the recent anti-Jewish measures in Germany and the resultant diplomatic strain between the Reich and the United States.

There were significant reports that Chamberlain may prepare British public for possible modification of his peace policy as a result of the developments in Germany and that he will warn Chancellor Hitler that European appeasement efforts are being endangered.

Double Peace Agreement
During the next few days, it was stated, British cabinet ministers will make various public addresses emphasizing the anti-Jewish measures in Germany and casting doubts upon the value of the Munich peace agreement.

The ministers are expected to declare that hopes for European appeasement through the amputation of Czechoslovakia seem to be fading in view of the anti-Jewish measures and the German press attacks upon Britain.

Chamberlain and his advisers are reported to have decided upon a stronger policy—a decision which may have been aided by recent developments in the diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States.

South African defense minister Oswald Pirow, now in Berlin for talks with German government leaders, has been advised that Britain is not now in a position to discuss the colonial question with the Reich.

time, Borah said, "Any change would be wholly inadequate for real relief and secondly it would arouse tremendous opposition."

Up To Congress
Dix said: "I think any change in our immigration laws is purely a question for congress to decide. I don't think the executive branch has any authority in the matter. We have a system of quotas for immigration and it is up to congress to decide whether they shall be changed."

"I never understood that the president had power to extend visitors' permits indefinitely. It is my understanding that there is a limit to the extensions, but certainly it is the spirit of the law that visitors' permits are granted for temporary purposes. If they were made permanent it would violate the spirit of the law."

"I imagine that congress will be reluctant to liberalize any of the immigration laws. I think that instead there will be a strong movement to tighten them."

Spokesmen for organized labor will oppose loosening of the immigration barriers to permit an influx of Jewish refugees, a member of the senate immigration committee forecast.

Handle Themselves Well
It would be a nice thing to carry a paragraph on each of the players but the cast looks like a section of the telephone directory. Outstanding was the work of Mimi, the young flier, Mollie the maid, Mr. and Mrs. Meadows, Hal Kenny, football player, Elaine the sister in college, Travis the son, and running close to these were the rest of the cast.

This cast, either was made up of an unusual number of clever youngsters or they got down to rehearsal in a serious way, or Miss Harshuff rang the gong again. A little of each we'd say off hand.

The house was not full but this was probably because a special matinee will be held for high school students on Tuesday night. As entertainment the play was more than adequate. Hear Arguments On Housing Authority

New Castle Representatives Are Heard At Harrisburg On Friday

State Housing Authority in Harrisburg, yesterday heard arguments in favor of and against the creation of a housing authority here. Following the giving of testimony the decision of the state board was withheld.

City Solicitor William G. Cobau, at the request of city council, opposed creation of a board and ex-Senator George T. Weingartner also opposed the establishment of an authority.

Doyl E. Glosner, who headed a delegation of four, presented facts concerning a survey he had made of 100 houses. He described their condition. The group favors an authority.

Solicitor Cobau told the board members Cobau had asked the WPA to approve, and already had received approval of a real estate inventory here.

The solicitor said this inventory would show whether or not the city is in need of a local authority.

Ex-Senator Weingartner said he represented a group of persons who are opposed to a local authority. They do not believe there is a need for more houses here. He gave statistics concerning the number of vacant properties.

The meeting was held in the caucus room of the senate building.

liberate, malicious lie! reports that he had a financial interest in the Art Metal company which was awarded the contracts for a large portion of the office equipment purchased for the division of unemployment compensation in the labor and industry department.

Bashore's Explanation
Bashore's explanation for the award of the contracts to the Art Metal company despite the fact other companies had offered greater discounts was this: That the Art Metal Company was best acquainted with the department's requirements, having supplied similar equipment for the U. S. security board, that it had sent representatives to England to study unemployment compensation methods there in order to be in a position to handle the contracts here more efficiently, and that consequently it was best able to fill the department's requirements with speed and dispatch.

Of other charges Bashore had this to say:
Concerning the charge that the Democratic "maced" state employees to the extent of $2,000,000 a year, Bashore said that "from January 1933 to July 1938 the total receipts of the Democratic state committee from all sources was only $785,548."

Concerning an alleged arrangement with general state authority architects to "kickback" on their fees to the Democratic organization Bashore said he knew nothing about it "and I don't believe any such arrangement ever existed."

Concerning the liquor bribe charges, Bashore replied: "I did not receive $50,000 and to the best of my knowledge no one else ever received $50,000 for beer legislation or any other sum." The same he added, went for the Sunday movie legislation allegations. "It's a fiction of the kind of a person who conjured it up" he remarked.

He is to be released at the expiration of thirty days, provided fine and costs are paid. Remesink was like a lot of others sentenced in connection with numbers. He claimed that he did not know for whom he was working.

Wade Thomas, against whom there were three charges, drunken driving, failing to stop and failure to show his driving license, was sentenced to thirty days to jail on the drunken driving charge, and fined $50 each on the other two charges. He is to be released in fifteen days, provided the fines and costs are paid.

James Barton, on a percentage charge, was sentenced to pay $70 living in expenses, and $2 per week for the support of the child. He is to enter into his recognizance in the sum of $300 for the faithful performance of the obligations.

James Sullivan, for breaking and entering was sentenced to six months in the Allegheny county workhouse.

East Brook Union
East Brook W. C. T. U. members met in the East Brook M. E. church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. John Young presiding. After the opening songs in which all blended their voices, Mae McConahy and Nancy Richard sang "Follow the Glean." Mrs. Omar Fink, secretary, called the roll and members responded with Thanksgiving verses.

The speaker of the evening was Everett Downing who had for his subject, "Christian Temperance." Mr. Downing in driving home one of his points said: "Take one natural born fool, add two or three drinks of bootleg liquor (any other kind may be substituted) and mix the two in a high powered motor car. After the fool is thoroughly soaked, place his foot on the gas and release the brakes. Remove the foot from the wreckage. Place in a black satin lined box and garnish with flowers." The address was much appreciated by the union.

Congregational singing and a selection by the choir ended the meeting.

The December program will take place in the East Brook M. E. with the T. L. B. and L. T. L.

Energy Union
Energy W. C. T. U. met in the home of Mrs. J. G. Weir on Wednesday, November 16, at 2 o'clock with Mrs. W. N. Nagel as leader. The meeting opened with the group singing "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee."

The program follows: prayer Mrs. William Leslie; scripture, Mrs. W. H. Nagel; song, "This Is My Father's World."

The president, Mrs. William Leslie, was in charge of the business meeting, after which she introduced the county W. C. T. U. president, Mrs. Wilkens, and the treasurer, Mrs. McClellan. Mrs. Wilkens gave an interesting report of the recent convention.

The meeting was brought to a close with the benediction.

BERLIN IS COOL ON QUESTION OF REMOVING JEWS

President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull regarding the anti-Jewish measures in the Reich. The German enjoys to Washington, Hans Dieckhoff, has received a similar summons to return to Berlin.

As far as can be ascertained here the chief stumbling block regarding Rubins request is the fact that his mission is considered wholly political by German quarters.

On the other hand it is believed probable that the German government is prepared to go a long way in negotiating on a non-political basis regarding removal of Jews with members of the intergovernmental committee other than Rublee.

It was understood efforts are afoot in London and Washington to seek here approach to the Jewish refugee question, possibly on a revised organization basis. As an example of such revision, withdrawal of Rublee from the intergovernmental committee was suggested.

FUNERAL COSTS

WHEN the services of this organization are secured, clients may feel certain that their wishes alone will determine the cost of a funeral. We make no attempt to influence their choice.

Funeral services may be obtained here at prices as low as those asked by any reputable mortician. And regardless of the sum paid, every facility of our mortuary will be furnished.

Cousin Of Resident Is Taken By Death

Mrs. Ellen Wagoner, Who Suffered Stroke Here, Dies In Georgia

Mrs. A. G. Crawford, of 1234 Huron avenue, has received notice of the passing away of Mrs. Ellen Wagoner, aged 82 years, Wednesday, in Oliver, Ga.

Mrs. Wagoner was known in New Castle through her visits to the home of her cousin, Mrs. Crawford. It was while she was here a year ago that she suffered the stroke from which she never fully recovered. She is survived by one son, Dr. Roger Wagoner, of Oliver, Ga., and one brother, John Maynard Rogers, of North Lawrence, O. Her husband, Dr. Samuel Wagoner, preceded her in death some years ago.

For many years Mrs. Wagoner was a school teacher, eminently successful in teaching young minds and helping in the building of good ideals and characters. Most of her teaching years were passed in Akron, O. Mrs. Wagoner was an admirable character, gifted with all those qualities that are a power for good, shedding love and happiness on all who knew her.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2:30 p. m. from the Canfield and Hickman funeral parlour, Harborton, O. She will be interred beside her husband in Harborton cemetery.

U. S. AND NAZI RELATIONS NEARLY SUSPENDED NOW

Germany was as a virtual standstill with the Nazi government occupying a lone position among all world countries of the American trade "blacklist," and shut out from the broad concessions just granted Great Britain in the Anglo-American and Canadian reciprocal trade treaties.

Mounting American indignation over Nazi persecution of German Jews brought a new outburst of official acts and utterances that snarled diplomatic relations to the snapping point.

Drastic Step Not Considered
Demands were voiced in congressional and private quarters that President Roosevelt sever relations, but more moderate counsel in the government pointed out that so drastic a step is not to be considered at this time.

The actual intentions of the American government in the course of its future relations with Germany remained locked with Mr. Roosevelt, who awaited Wilson's personal report on conditions in

METHODIST WOMEN HAVE LOVELY DINNER

Women of the First Methodist Episcopal congregation enjoyed a lovely dinner in the church dining room Friday evening at six o'clock in connection with Fellowship Week observed by all Methodist women.

The guests, close to 100, joined hands as they stood around the prettily decorated, candlelighted tables, and sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The invocation was given by Rev. W. V. McLean.

After dinner Mrs. McLean played the "Sonata Pathétique" by Beethoven, in her usual pleasing and talented way. After the piano solo, Dr. F. S. Noyes gave an address on "Methodist Women in a Changing World."

The gathering was sponsored by all the women's organizations of the church, with the presidents making up the committee of arrangements. The purpose was to create a better and greater fellowship among the women of the church.

ROTARY ANNIVERSARY PARTY AT FIELD CLUB

New Castle Rotarians, joined by their Rotary Anns, will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the local club with a dinner party at the New Castle Field Club Monday evening, November 21 at 6:30 o'clock.

Rock D. Rosenberger is chairman of the committee on arrangements. One of the principal program features will be the address by President Weir C. Ketter, of Grove City college.

Heigh-Ho Club

Heigh-Ho Club members met with Mary Alice Carey at her home on North Mercer street, Thursday evening. Bridge and 500 provided the pastime prizes going to Patricia Maher, and Margaret Mary Maher. Lunch was served by candle light around the diningroom table afterwards.

Special guests included, Rose Green, Mary Elizabeth Joyce and Agnes Lynch.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Patricia Maher, West Washington street.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY HONORS OFFICERS

Ladies Auxiliary to the Harry L. McBride Post, 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held a tureen dinner in the Legion Home at 6:30 o'clock in honor of their department president, Mrs. Myrtle Byers, and department secretary, Mrs. Beatrice Sisco, both of Pittsburgh, on Thursday evening. About fifty attended.

The table was beautifully decorated for the occasion. After Mrs. Marguerite Cowperthwaite had asked grace, Mrs. Mary Cox, toastmistress, introduced Mrs. Ada Miller, president of the local auxiliary, who extended greetings and welcomed the guests assembled.

Following, Mrs. Byers was introduced and she gave an interesting talk on auxiliary work and told what it meant to the department. At this time, she was presented with a lovely gift from the auxiliary by the president, Mrs. Miller.

A short talk was given by Mrs. Sisco and she was presented with personal gifts from Mrs. Evelyn Woods, department judge advocate, and from Mrs. Tempa Siskle, president of four-county council.

Mrs. Anna Gorst, gold-star mother, extended greetings to the department president from the gold star mothers.

The committee in charge of the dinner included Mrs. Mary Cox, Mrs. Elmer Bell, Mrs. Irene Munzing, Mrs. Mary Nicholson and Mrs. Elmer Fredericks.

Plans were completed for the annual joint entertainment with the American Legion Auxiliary, at the Alhambra Home to take place on Wednesday evening, November 23, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ida M. Suber, Americanism chairman, will be in charge of the V. F. W. auxiliary program.

Plans were also made for their annual Christmas party to be held in the Legion Home on Thursday evening, December 15. Husbands and families will be guests and a tureen dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. Following, there will be a program and treat for the children. Mrs. Evelyn Woods, general chairlady, will be assisted by Mrs. Anna Gorst and members of the auxiliary.

EAST NEW CASTLE CLUB ENTERTAINED

East New Castle club members enjoyed the hospitality extended Friday afternoon by Mrs. Ed Dean, when she entertained at Sylvan Heights Country Club at a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Mrs. Clair McConnell was a special guest of the occasion. After a short business period in charge of Mrs. Clyde Turner, attention was given to bingo contests. Those carrying off prizes, included Mrs. A. Lee Whitaker, Mrs. Florence Wikison, Mrs. Clyde Turner, Mrs. Clarence Johnson and Mrs. H. A. Anderson.

Their Christmas party was planned for December 8, with Mrs. Clarence Johnson of East New Castle, hostess.

SCAVENGER HUNT ENJOYED BY GROUP

A group of boys and girls from the New Castle high school gathered at the home of Betty Ward, Dewey avenue, for a scavenger hunt last evening.

The difficult items were listed by N. R. Casillo, Dorothy Young and Donald Copson, all supervisors at the high school. After the group returned from their wild expedition, prizes were awarded to the fortunate winners. They were Dorothy Wagner, Helen Trent, Betty Ward, Russell Stocker, Dwight Miller and John Harlan.

At a suitable time a delicious repast was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. George Ward. The table was prettily decorated with a large bouquet of chrysanthemums forming the centerpiece.

Young Tigers Auxiliary

Members of the Young Tigers Auxiliary met on Friday evening at the Tigers hall on Home street. Miss Frances Pagley acted as hostess.

Bingo and cards were enjoyed by the group, with the former prizes going to Ella Phillips and Victoria Pagley, the latter to Clara Cugini and Rose Sica.

In honor of the birthday anniversaries of two members, Louise Peluso and Ella Phillips, hankie showers were held later in the evening.

Dancing claimed the attention and following a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. She was assisted by her co-hostesses, Clara Deshorne and Anna Guila.

At the next meeting, Anna Dinia will be hostess, with Ella Phillips, Mary Maciarello and Clara Cugini as co-hostesses.

Mrs. G. Cochran Honored

Miss Eileen Mulcahy was hostess at a lovely shower on Thursday evening given in honor of Mrs. Guy Cochran, nee Virginia Samuels, in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jennie Riley, Shaw street.

Bingo and 500 formed the pastimes and prizes went to Beiva Cochran, Hazel Collum and Iva Bevan. At a later hour, a tasty lunch was served by Mrs. Riley, her aides being Mrs. John Morrissey, Mrs. Ada Cole and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell. A Thanksgiving theme predominated in the decorations.

Mrs. Cochran received a number of lovely and useful gifts.

Mr. And Mrs. E. G. Reeves Golden Anniversary Sunday

On Sunday, November 20, a prominent couple, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Reeves, of Fairfield avenue, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

As a medium of observing the happy occasion, their only daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ira M. Ramsey, will entertain the immediate family at a dinner in their home at Meadville. Their only son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reeves of East Garfield avenue, will be present. Also, five grandchildren, will share the festivities.

The day will be spent most informally following the serving of the dinner.

BETTY FLYNN IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Members of the Junior Girls club of Women's Benefit Association, Review 98, held a meeting at the home of Betty Flynn, Butler avenue, Friday evening.

Names of different countries were given in response to roll call by the members. Maxine Lytle and Inez Kelly were taken into the club as new members.

Plans were made to visit the Margaret Henry Home in December. Plans were also formed for the Annual Christmas party. Mrs. Nell Knox was a guest at the party.

Games of various types were played during the hours, and prizes were awarded to Sally Lou Kurtz, Ada May Jacobs, Georgia Woods, and Betty Rhorer.

A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. Fred Flynn and Katharine Flynn. Next meeting to be held on Friday, December 9.

MISSIONARY GROUPS AT HIGHLAND CHURCH

The Women's Missionary Society of the Highland United Presbyterian church, were hostesses Friday evening to their associate missionary society groups, at an informal party given in the church. Those sharing in the festivities were the Baird Society, the Jean Hill Williamson Society, McGill Society and the Kings Daughters.

The event was a means of launching their thank offering program, which will be presented on November 30.

The entertainment provided was the showing of pictures of the world cruise, taken by Mrs. P. L. Craig, which proved a most interesting feature.

Refreshments were served to fifty or more guests afterwards, by the following committee: they were Mrs. W. G. Eekies, Mrs. John O'fult, Mrs. Thomas Lindsey, Mrs. John Staley, Mrs. Louella Waldron and Mrs. E. Gilbert.

BESTYETTE CLUB EVENING ASSEMBLY

Delightfully informal, was the meeting of the Bestyette Bridge club members in the home of Mrs. L. H. Kelly on Fairmont avenue, Friday evening, and they had as a special guest, Mrs. Chester Craig.

The tables of contract featured the early period, with the honor score prize falling to Mrs. Clare Montgomery.

Lunch was a later pleasure, the hostess serving a tasty menu by candle light at the prettily arranged dining room table. The Thanksgiving motif predominated.

Plans were made for their Yuletide party, when gifts will be exchanged to take place December 2, at the home of Mrs. Clare Montgomery, Wallace avenue. Names were drawn last evening for this event.

CO-HOSTESSES TO CLASS FRIDAY EVE

Rebekah Browne class members, of the First U. P. church, were entertained Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Addison Carothers, North Walnut street, with Mrs. Grover Moon as associate hostess.

Social chat, games and guessing contests were the diversion of the evening. A tempting lunch was served by the hostesses to the 12 members present.

The next meeting of the class will be in the form of a Christmas party at the church on Friday, December 16. There will be a tureen dinner and Mrs. Stella Gibson and Mrs. Anna Brown will be the hostesses for the event.

ART DEPARTMENT TO MEET MONDAY

Members of the Fine Arts Department of the Women's club will hold their November meeting at the home of Mrs. J. J. McIvaine, 226 Fairfield avenue, Monday afternoon.

The meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock and Mrs. Harry Gormley will be the speaker. Music will be a feature of the program.

New Club Formed

The forming of a new club took place recently at the home of Mrs. Sam Vanasa of Oak street, and will be known as the Number Please club. Officers in charge are as follows: President, Mrs. Sam Vanasa; secretary, Dorothy Correll; treasurer, Mrs. Lena Correll.

The group later gathered at the home of Victoria Parenti, Oak street for their meeting. Various diversions were enjoyed throughout the evening. Sewing was the main pastime.

At an appropriate hour, the hostess served a delicious lunch, assisted by Mrs. Sam Vanasa, and Julia Tentarotta.

The next meeting will be held on December 1, at the home of Mrs. Dominick Quigley.

East Brook Club

Mrs. Everett Kennedy, East Brook and Mrs. Louise Hinkley, will be joint hostesses to the East Brook Garden club members on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the former's home.

The subject for the evening will be "Parks I Have Visited."

Grand Army Ladies

Grand Army Ladies of the George McCracken Circle, No. 168, will meet Tuesday for an all day quilting, in their usual place. A tureen dinner will be served at noon.

MRS. ERNA GILLAND TO BE B. P. W. GUEST

"The World Today" will be the subject of an address by Mrs. Erna Grassmuck Gilland at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club in the Y. W. C. A. Monday evening.

Mrs. Gilland, whose home is in California, Pa., is an outstanding authority on the teaching of geography. She was formerly head of the geography department in the State Teachers College of Indiana and at present she is a consultant in geography teaching. She is secretary of the World Federation of the Education Association.

Mrs. Gilland's address will be delivered at an open meeting which will begin at 6:45 p. m., and the B. P. W. is inviting anyone who is interested. The meeting is to follow the regular B. P. W. dinner at 5:45 in the green room, third floor.

In charge of arrangements are the education and international affairs committees of the B. P. W.

Carolyn Apicelli Honored

A delightful evening was spent recently when Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Apicelli, 1035 Butler avenue, entertained, surprise fashion, in honor of their daughter, Carolyn, 11 being her 18th birthday anniversary. About 30 attended the event.

Dancing and games formed the pastimes, prizes going to Mary Truglio and Edward Livengood. A lap dance was presented by Helen Ross.

Appointments were carried out in pink and blue and a large cake centered the table. A lunch was served by Mrs. Apicelli and daughters, Mrs. R. Staph, Mrs. P. Juliano, Mrs. D. Colese, and a close friend, Mrs. V. Graziani.

The honoree received many lovely gifts in remembrance of the occasion.

Friendly Clique

Friday members of the Friendly Clique club met at the home of Mrs. R. J. Sacripant of County Line street.

Games and various other diversions were enjoyed by the group. The club prize was captured by Mrs. Samuel Mooney.

At an appointed hour, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. S. Mooney, served a delicious lunch.

The next meeting will be held on December 2, at the residence of Mrs. N. Altobelli of Dushane street.

Lions Honor Wives At Field Club Dinner-Dance

A brilliant dinner-dance last night at the New Castle Field club, given by members of the Lions club for their wives—as a group they're known as the Ladies of the Lions—attracted a crowd of 80 and marked one of the most distinguished social affairs the Lions have ever held.

Early in the evening, as the guests were seated for dinner, the tribute to the ladies was voiced in a fitting toast delivered by G. Earl Williams, chairman of the committee on arrangements and master-of-ceremonies for the evening.

The men of the club first sang a greeting to their wives and each of the ladies received a beautiful garland for her wrist as Williams closed the toast.

A turkey dinner was served the group, and during dinner a local orchestra played. The orchestra remained for the dancing later in the evening.

Speeches were completely out for Chairman Williams and his committee had made sure they would be. The night was reserved entirely for entertainment—and the committee ruled speech-making out of that category.

Principal attractions of the evening, which won the applause of the guests, were the prize waltz and prize fox trot contests. Honors in the waltz division went to Mrs. T. J. Fletcher and John B. Waddington while honors in the fox trot division fell to Mr. and Mrs. J. Dawson, guests from Washington, Pa.

Judges for the contests were Mrs. P. L. Rentz, Numa F. Vidal, Jr., Mr. Ezra D. Marvin and Thomas I. El-hott.

Honors in the bridge playing during the evening fell to Mrs. W. D. Cleland and Mrs. J. W. Staudinger.

The door prize was won by Dr. W. D. Cleland.

The dancing and card playing continued until late.

Guests from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fisher, Miss Jean Welch, Mr. Braun and Mr. and Mrs. J. Dawson of Washington, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Ross of Beaver Falls. Local guests were Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Rentz, Mr. and Mrs. William Klee, Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Robinson, Norman P. Nelson and Miss Marjorie Rhodes.

Chairman Williams' committee for the affair included Numa F. Vidal, Jr., T. J. Brown, Harding Thayer and Ed Wilson. The committee on table decorations was composed of the wives of three club members, Mrs. G. Earl Williams, Mrs. T. J. Fletcher and Mrs. Charles Pile.

Mrs. McConnell Hostess

Mrs. George McConnell of East Washington street was a charming hostess, Friday evening, when she entertained members of the Macon Bridge club.

Three tables of bridge were played with the prizes going to Mrs. George McConnell, Mrs. Lucy Covert and the traveling prize went to Mrs. Clark Buell.

In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Lucy Covert of East Washington street.

Ever Ready Class

Members of the Ever Ready Class, of the First M. E. church, will meet Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Renker, of West State street, for their monthly meeting.

FRUITFUL REWARDS FOR A YEAR'S THRIFT

PRELIMINARY estimates that Christmas savings clubs conducted by banks throughout the country will distribute $330,000,000 to about 7,000,000 persons next month, an increase of three per cent in amount and six per cent in members over last year, implies that thrift is far from being a lost art for individuals despite adverse governmental examples.

To be sure, the number of savers mounted faster than their funds, so that this year's average distribution will be only $47, compared to $18.55 last year, but it is no mean feat in these times to put aside practically a dollar a week specifically for Christmas spending, over and above living expenses and normal savings for general emergencies.

One need not take too seriously, of course, the insistence of the savers, attested by a questionnaire, that only 32.4 per cent of this money will buy presents, with 26.7 per cent kept in the banks, the bulk of the rest going for routine bills.

In any event, the idea continues sound, year after year, and remains a luminous example to others who are in a position to save something, but instead live dangerously on a day-to-day basis.

THE ROAD HOG AS NUISANCE NO. 1

That the road-hog should have been voted the Number One highway nuisance in a poll of motorists at the New York Automobile Show is hardly surprising. Unofficial polls taken right at the scene of action countless times a day have reached the same conclusion.

There are a number of other highway nuisances, of course, and the New York list of ten could be expanded much farther. There are slow drivers, cutting in, careless pedestrians, failure to signal, back-seat driving, turning from the wrong lane, double parking and horn-tooting. Harried husbands may find fault with a sixth-place rating for back-seat driving, but it may be that this particular nuisance is not as widespread as it used to be. Or perhaps drivers are getting immune to it, as one does to the noise of riving on a nearby building operation.

It wouldn't be a bad idea if motorists would examine their own driving consciences with this list as their guide. Those who annoy other drivers and who endanger their own lives and the lives of others by their carelessness and indifference can take the first step to reform by recognizing their own shortcomings as drivers.

CLOSING THE YANGTZE

Politely, but firmly, in simultaneous notes Japan has refused to accede to the protests of the United States, Great Britain and France against permitting only Japanese vessels to use the Yangtze River. The pretext is that military operations make navigation dangerous and that therefore foreign vessels must be excluded. A Foreign Office statement disclaims the idea this exclusion is permanent. Meanwhile the broader question of the open door in China—it is now slammed tight in the face of Occidental nations—is in abeyance.

The Japanese are taking their cue from what is going on in Europe. The present reply is made only a week after the three powers made their protests known as to the Yangtze, but the note of Secretary of State Hull, delivered a month earlier, as to maintaining the historic principle of the open door longer delayed. And it must not be overlooked that the seizure of Canton in South China, and the blocking off of the British port of Hongkong from trade with the interior, was subsequent to Hitler's triumph at Munich. The effect of that Anglo-French surrender has been to embolden Japan in her determination to dominate East Asia.

In effect, her present attitude toward the three powers is to wait out possible threat of overt action in some form of reprisals.

NEW RECORDS AHEAD

We hear so much about multi-billion dollar deficits that we at times seem to become dulled to any fears which may arise from such contemplation. Many of our smug citizens who are foolish enough to feel that they don't have to pay taxes because their direct tax bill is small or non-existent seem even disposed to stifle a yawn when mounting deficits and national debts are called to attention. It might serve a useful purpose, therefore, to give some concrete comparisons on the latest abysmal deficit for the year 1939. It may interest some of us to know that the estimated deficit for the year 1939 is 133 million dollars higher than the total amount of money spent by the federal government from the Revolutionary War to the Civil War, during the 76 years from 1789-1864, according to a recent study by the statistical division of the National Industrial Conference Board.

For 1939 the estimated federal deficit is 3,985 million dollars, while the federal government spent only 3,852 million dollars for the entire period through 1864. One year's deficit is over a hundred million dollars higher than 76 years' expenses.

Another interesting comparison shows that the deficit for the nine years, 1831-1839, is nearly 300 million dollars greater than federal expenditures for the 25 years, 1789-1813. In other words, since 1931 our government has incurred a greater deficit, 24,814 million dollars, than it was able to spend in all the years up to the start of the World War, a sum of 24,522 million dollars.

The deficit for two months in modern times, July and August, just before the elections, 1938, was 40 million dollars greater than the average amount spent per year during the period 1900-1913.

Let us remember, too, that 1939 is an off-year so far as elections are concerned. We can therefore expect an even bigger spending program and greater deficit in 1940 when the Presidential election rolls around. So far 1936 and 1938 have been record breakers in expenditure for relief and the fact that these two were election years seems more than a coincidence.

We'd have more faith in those who try to save the world if they didn't stake out such a nice section for themselves.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LOVES GIRLS BUT DREADS THEM.

I wish I might persuade such readers as the one who wrote the following letter to think more highly of themselves, and to rid themselves of needless fears.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I am a steady reader of your column and am collecting articles of yours which interest me. . . . I am writing you asking if you would treat the subject of fear in the near future or perhaps write me about it.

"Has Queer 'Fit'?"
 "I cannot enter a place where people are. I blush immediately and cannot speak. The muscles of my face begin to jerk involuntarily and I feel as though I would faint. After this queer 'fit' I recover myself and become quite at ease. These fits prompt me to avoid all possible occasions which would provoke them. Hence, I find myself with only a few friends of my own sex, these being equally as timid. I dread the thought of even being seen by the college type of fellow. I have no girl friends whatever. I am twenty-one years old and you no doubt know that it is tragic in my case.

"The queer thing is that I am continually falling in love with the type of girl I dread the most—the beautiful and popular. . . .
 "It is these circumstances that make me feel that fear is my chief trouble and that's why I am writing you. . . . If you should discuss 'Fear' in your column, please do not use my name."

Make Self Go
 My reply in part: "I think I know how you suffer, for I was much like you myself about your age. Since you write so well, you clearly are intelligent, and I am sure have many interesting things to talk about. It's not queer that you should fall in love with popular girls, since you suppose they have the qualities of personality you think you lack and wish so much to acquire.

"Just make yourself go places where there are young men and women. Set out to steel yourself against this fear, but don't feel ashamed of it. Just treat it as objectively as you would a cold. Learn to admire and look for the substantial in quiet, lowly things. Get it out of your head you must talk much to be agreeable. Try to grow interested in the conversation and activity of the group. When you feel like saying something, just say it with abandon and never allow yourself to wonder whether it was said or chosen well.

"Learn a few social skills so you can feel comfortable to join what others do. Brag to yourself about the good traits and accomplishments you have—lots of them. Keep a secret notebook and write down some of them each day."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

VALUABLE SHADOWS

The New York Sun is undertaking a series of advertisements to create a broader understanding and appreciation of industrial America's contribution to the advancement of civilization, as well as social and economic well being. Speaking of the Nation's Picture Industry, it says:

"The Motion Picture Industry will expend $135,000,000 this year to produce a series of advertisements—mirrored shadows cast upon 17,500 silver screens in every corner of our land. A non-essential product! Yet 88,000,000 people will demand it every week. To say nothing of the added millions in foreign lands.

"Perishable! Yet some of these shadows will live always in millions of minds and hearts.

"And it is worth nothing that these fleeting shadows will provide a livelihood for 250,000 people—flood one city alone with an $85,000,000 payroll, and call upon Two Hundred Seventy-six different arts, sciences and industries to supply needed goods and services.

"Mighty shadows! They send camera crews to girdle the earth. They summon Shakespeare. They command armies, they cause the curtains of Time itself to roll back, they make men dream dreams.

"Unpredictable shadows! One moment they rock you with laughter. Again, they wring tears. They cleanse your heart with tender emotion. They stiffen our courage, they comfort your fears, they befriend you.

"For these picture shadows provide the best entertainment the world has ever known.

"Yet the motion picture means far more to America than mere entertainment.

"It is a great teacher—giving our generation a broad understanding of the world and its peoples.

"It is a great cultural influence—kindling new aspirations toward beauty and higher living standards.

"And almost magically the American motion picture has become a world unifying force—beating frontiers, leveling prejudices, drawing nations and races together in a common meeting place beyond the horizon of struggle and strife.

"These are the intangible things that the American motion picture means to our country and to the world—greater by far than the values measured in dollars invested or thousands of people employed."

The Sun says 250,000 obtain a livelihood from the industry—a very low estimate—directly perhaps yes, but indirectly many times that number.

When his shots fall year after year, we sometimes have the disloyal thought that maybe a big office doesn't make a man great, after all.

Have a heart, Mr. Roosevelt. Can't you see that by keeping the emergency powers you also keep the emergency?

"Is this what you value your services at?" the noted attorney asked.

"Why, yes, Mr. Choate, because it's for a large railroad. I didn't think it too much."

Choate said: "Humph! Hand me that pen." He took the pen and wrote the figure two in front of the 500, making the bill $2,500.

Leadership Problem Vital One
McNary Proves Senate Ability
Supplied Antis With BulletsBy CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—By virtue of his Republican leadership in the senate, Charles L. McNary of Oregon will occupy one of the most important of congressional political posts at the national legislators' next session. McNary's party following was so small at the last session that the Oregonian did not appear to signify much. Nevertheless, he managed exceedingly well, partially speaking. He realized that his group was too weak numerically to be effectively very vocal. He was quite aware, however, that there were plenty of anti-New Deal Democrats who simply were bursting to say mean things about the pro-New Dealers. Consequently his policy was to keep quiet and lurch-hurl his fellow Republicans. But when one of them thought up a dirty crack to be directed against the administration his sense was to have it whispered by a Democratic "agent" leaving it to the latter to get it off in debate. Thus he got into the record all that he wanted to have said, while giving an impression of silent G. O. P. dignity and, at the same time, of a vicious intra-Democratic cat-and-dog fight.

The anti-New Deal Democrats appreciated these hints from Republican sources. Republican and some Democratic lawmakers are quite good friends with one another. They make mutual allowances. Between Democrats and Democratic factions are too mild to say that a most skillful feint; it's a gift that they liberally hate each other across McNary Versus Snell.

Senator McNary is largely responsible for this mysterious work. He has heard of cases in which he got federal appointments for Republicans on the strength of friendly Democratic endorsement.

To be sure, McNary is Republican leader only.

Congressman Bertrand H. Snell of New York has been the G. O. P. leader in the house of representatives. Snell is a bang-up fighter but not a very tactful one. McNary, who is relatively as pure a politician as McNary's, has proved his ability to back a brick wall instead of seeking to undermine it.

Anthony Snell did not fail for re-election. Presumably he will be succeeded as leader by Congressman Joseph W. Martin of Mass. Martin is all right but comparatively he's a snail.

The assumption is that he'll be aided by McNary, with the latter experience. If so McNary reasonably may be expected to be the Republican all-around congressional coordinator.

In both houses the Republican remain greatly in a minority.

From newspaper comment, one might think that they secured a victory in the recent election. They did make considerable gains. But they were gains from close to zero. The G. O. P. still is legislatively feeble.

Yet as on the upgrade, McNary's task is to keep it moving upward. More than any other single individual he can do it if anyone can in this coming session of congress.

To date he's performed wonderfully.

An "Inner Circle" Misconception

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.

The reaction to the recent election results of the little group of Presidential advisers known as the "inner circle," to whom their journals the admires so ardently refer as "intellectual abstractions" is interesting though not very important.

THE report, which apparently originated with "intellectuals" is that there is a great movement to "drive" them from the White House and "out of the public service." For the sake of their "intellectual principles" and the great cause of "intellectual liberalism" these noble fellows are prepared to sacrifice the "forces of reaction" yet phrase to describe independent Democrats which yearn to dislodge them.

BOSH! They flatter themselves, and have reversed the facts, which is entirely typical. In the first place, the political opponents of Mr. Roosevelt and his policies would hardly be foolish enough to desire the removal of these "intellectual individuals" from the inner circle—and they do not. On the contrary, they regard—and with reason—the Congressmen, Senators, House members and Democrats as distinct political liabilities to the President. Their retirement from the position of "intellectual friends," speech writers and advisers of political and legislative strategy would be a real disappointment to anti-New Dealers, who placed as the objective even the New Deal in the elections are eager to attack its progress down the hill.

DISAPPEARANCE of the "intellectual liberals" from the White House circle would deprive Mr. Roosevelt's opponents of one of their favorite targets and remove a source of scandal and increasing irritation to Congress and the public. It is far from likely that this little group has been so much as threatened to make more mistakes than the rest of the friends together. In a considerably extent by defeat in Congress last session, the defeats in the primary purges last summer and his defeat in the election last week can all be traced to it. The extraordinary concert of the members of the group now causes them curiously to misconceive the situation. It isn't those who wish Mr. Roosevelt to politically who want to "drive" them away from the White House—it's those who wish him well.

IT IS the friends of Mr. Roosevelt who would like to return the "intellectual liberals" to the obscurity from which they sprang; not his enemies. To his enemies they are a gift from the gods. But with their smug self-righteousness, their superior airs, their talent for advising members of the Senate, the degree to which they have smugged up the word "liberal" and their made unpopularity with the people to Mr. Roosevelt's friends. These things make them a source of acute embarrassment, not to say a pain in the neck. If there is a movement to relocate them to the rear it comes from Mr. Roosevelt's adherents who have found the facts in the face and are tired of having to deal with these half-baked young

Eighty Years Of Service To Be Celebrated

Emanuel Evangelical Church Having 80th Birthday Services Sunday

DR. WARNER IS EVENING SPEAKER

Tomorrow, November 20, services in recognition of the eighty anniversary will take place in the Emanuel Evangelical church at the corner of South Jefferson and West South streets, south of the postoffice.

The program for the day has been carefully planned, and the pastor, Rev. J. George Koopke, who has known the history of the congregation for some fifty years, even before he entered the ministry, is well qualified for the occasion.

At the morning worship hour, 10:45, the pastor will deliver the anniversary sermon, which will show the steady development of Emanuel church during the past 80 years. The evening worship hour will be the climax of the observance. Samuel Warner, M. D., a well known physician, will bring his own observations on the setting of his own observations. He was brought by his parents to New Castle when a young child and he grew up in the church, in which the Warner family had large influence.

The musical part of the services will be of a high order, participated in by the choir and by George E. Stuebler and Mrs. Elsa Stuebler as soloists. The pipe organ and the piano will add to the unusual character. Large audiences are anticipated.

Meadville Youth Group Is Coming To Local Church

Young people from the Meadville Christian church, where Rev. D. P. Shaffer, former Central Christian minister, is now pastor, are coming to New Castle Sunday and will have charge of the C. E. meeting at 6:30 and the regular evening worship service at 7:30 in the Central Christian church.

Mission Announces Program For Sunday

Regular Sunday school classes at 3 in the afternoon and a music program and evangelistic message at 8 in the evening will feature tomorrow's City Rescue Mission program. Superintendent Archie Gibson and his aides will distribute Thanksgiving Day dinner tickets to Sunday school children in the afternoon. The banquet is to be served at 5 p. m., Thursday, November 24.

"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, the world and they that dwell therein". Psalm 24-1.

ANNOUNCING The Annual Thank Offering and Praise Service

First Presbyterian Church Sunday, November 20, 1938

At 7:30 in the Evening PRESENTING The Westminster College Quartet, under the direction of Clayton Taylor. At 7:15 Mr. Taylor will present an organ recital.

THE SPEAKER Mrs. Henry B. Strock of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, the president of the Pennsylvania Synodical Society.

Featuring the evening will be a candle service, designed to express the spirit of the season. The entire program is under the auspices of the Missionary Society.

"Praise ye the Lord. O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever." Psalm 106-1.

Lutheran Church Thank-Offering Program Tuesday

President Of Synodical Will Speak At Service In St. John's Church

Special preparation is being made for the annual thank-offering service in St. John's Lutheran church, sponsored by the St. John's Missionary society. The service will take place Tuesday evening, November 22, at eight o'clock in the church on Nesbitt street.

This year the meeting is of unusual interest for the president of the Women's Synodical Missionary Society, Miss Elizabeth Knapp, of Pittsburgh. Other plans include a program of singing, a musical number by Mrs. Ben Azenow, Mrs. Raymond Gilbert and Esther Trent.

The entire congregation and their friends are joining in the service. The Lutheran churches of St. Paul's, Bethany and Ellwood City, have been invited as special guests. A committee with Mrs. William Mulcahy as chairman, is arranging for a social hour at the close.

Castlewood Will Hear Rev. Berger Wednesday Night

The union Thanksgiving service of the churches of the Castlewood district will be held Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Christian and Missionary Alliance chapel. Seven churches co-operate in this union service: the Slippery Rock Presbyterian, Greenwood M. E., Harmony Baptist, Center U. P., Saranac U. P., Calvary Presbyterian, and Christian and Missionary Alliance.

This year Rev. Thomas Berger, of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church will be the speaker.

Maitland Church Musical Program

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the choir will present a musical program in the Maitland Memorial M. church, entitled "Let Us Praise Thee" by George O. Webster. The annual thank-offering will be received at both morning and evening services. The evening program follows: "Blessings Bountiful"—Edith S. Tilletson. "Don't Forget To Praise Him"—Arthur Brantley. "Thanks Be To God"—I. H. Meredith. "We Give Not Thanks For This Or That"—I. H. Meredith. "Every Good and Perfect Gift"—Broughton Edwards. "Lord, Help Us To Share"—Broughton Edwards. "Give Thanks"—F. H. Meredith. "Jehovah Reigns"—I. H. Meredith.

Newport Planning Community Service

Announcement is made that a community service will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock next Thursday evening, Thanksgiving, in the Newport M. E. church. There will be singing by the Valley Way Crusaders, good speaking, and a short play. A silver offering will be taken.

Harvest Home

Service Sunday

Beautiful Service Planned For Evening In First Presbyterian Church

SYNODICAL SOCIETY

HEAD GUEST SPEAKER

The annual praise and harvest home service will be held at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This public service, presented by the Missionary Cabinet and motivated by gratitude to Almighty God, is a beautiful and stimulating experience.

The church is properly decorated for the occasion. Special music will be furnished by the male quartet of Westminster College, with Clayton Taylor as organist and director. Mrs. Henry B. Strock of Lancaster, Pa., is the guest speaker. Mrs. Strock is president of the Pennsylvania Synodical Society and chairman of the quadrennial committee of women of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. She is an able leader and a most interesting speaker.

A special reading will be given by Miss Helen Leslie. Members of the various societies of First Church have their parts in the worship program.

The next meeting will be with Catherine Mescall at her home on Spring street.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

radicals who still insist upon making America over.

IF there is danger of their separation from the payroll upon which all of them are so sweetly ensconced, and a prospect of their going the Tugwell route, it lies in the attitude of Mr. Roosevelt, not in the "forces of reaction". Mr. Roosevelt is no man deliberately to carry a political millstone around his neck, once he recognizes that it is a millstone and is around his neck. It would seem that even a casual survey of editorial opinion in this country or perusal of only a portion of the speeches of his opponents in the recent campaign, would be enough to cause Mr. Roosevelt to change his mind.

Playing young thinkers with their anti-capitalistic ideas, at least are doing him no good politically—and are really cherished by his foes. Once that exceedingly sound notion permeates the Presidential mind, the gay days of the Georgetown "liberals" will be over.

MR. ROOSEVELT owes these lads no debt of gratitude. It is true they have been of use to him in many ways, but the net of their service is a distinct loss. They have gotten vastly more benefit from him than he from them and he is free to unload whenever he pleases. It is the hope of his opponents that his emotion will continue to bedevil his judgment and the "inner circle" remain intact. The chances are, however, that Mr. Roosevelt, who is pretty quick on the uptake, is preparing to curtail their activities and reduce, if not their numbers, their conspicuousness, during the coming session. There is a suspicion that, perhaps, awareness of this may have inspired recent reports of the alleged "drive" against them by the "forces of reaction" and the equally strange stories of efforts along this line by Mr. Farley, who merely laughs at them, or by Mr. B. M. Baruch, who hardly knows they are on earth. The truth about these "inner-circle" boys is that they are nothing like as important to others as they seem to themselves.

BIRTHS

(Announcements to appear in this column must be signed with name and address of mother, and also date and time of birth.)

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Lathrop of Cheverly, Md., a daughter on November 18, who has been named Carol Jean. Mrs. Lathrop is the former Dorothy Cleal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney B. Cleal, 705 Wilmington avenue, this city.

George Washington Students Perform

With a chorus of 120 George Washington Junior-Senior high school students participating, the school paid honor to Stephen Foster, the composer, in its assembly program this week.

The memory of those picturesque plantation days, preserved by Foster's songs, was recalled by the following cast:

Mildred Kolonie, Dixie Girl; Jean Proctor, Jeanie; Roger Rowland, southern planter; Joyce Alexandria, Susanna; Mary Barbara Fish, Nellie Bly; Alene Proctor, Compton lady; Earl Hammond, Uncle Ned; Gene Wilson, Alabama boy; Lewis Southern, Nell's lover; Violet Tobin and Marjory Pascoe, dancers.

Mrs. Iva Mayberry Rice directed the program.

Hero Of Million Kids Is Visitor In New Castle

Noted Singing Cowboy, Gene Autry, Is Here For The Day

Gene Autry, hero of a million kids, the singing cowboy whose exploits on the screen have made him one of the most popular screen stars in the United States, is in New Castle today.

The Gene Autry of the screen is a hard hitting, quick shooting horse-broke who defends the right while he croons a ballad of the range. The Gene Autry of private life is a soft spoken young Texan who is just a little amazed at his growing popularity, who makes no pretense of being a matinee idol but is sincerely interested in clean entertainment.

"How does he account for the fact that he gets more fan mail than Clark Gable?"

"Well, sub, I just can't give you an explanation for it. Guess it must be that the American people are still interested in the sagas of the old west, that they want clean entertainment and that my horse and I give them what they want," said Autry as he tried to shift the conversation to football.

"This is a heap of fun making personal appearances," said Autry. "When I have the time I like to get out and really meet the people who have been so good to me through their patronage of my pictures. From other performers I have heard of your Cathedral theatre and I was glad to have the opportunity to be here."

New Castle Exchange club members will meet in The Castleton on Monday evening at 5:45 o'clock for their weekly dinner meeting.

Annual Meeting For Field Club

The 16th annual meeting of the New Castle Field club will be held in the clubhouse Tuesday evening, November 22 at eight o'clock.

Five new directors will be chosen by the membership, after which the new board will select the new year's officers.

A stag party will follow the business meeting.

TWO AUTOMOBILES DAMAGED IN CRASH

When the automobile operated by John P. McAllister, Ambler, and Ned C. Chapman, 213 Hillcrest avenue, crashed at Leisure and Delaware avenues at 5:30 p. m. Friday, considerable damage was caused to both cars.

McAllister drove his car west on Leisure avenue and Chapman operated his auto south on Delaware avenue. The vehicles collided at the intersection.

Planes Collide
In Midair, But
Nobody Is Hurt

One Pilot Takes Crippled Ship
To Safe Landing, Other
"Bails Out"

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 10.—An aviation miracle was recorded Friday high over San Miguel Mountain. Two Marine fighting planes, one piloted by Capt. T. J. Walker, the other by Lt. Elmore W. Seeds, collided head-on at terrific speed in midair—and neither pilot was injured.

The speedy little ships flew into each other while engaged in "routine gunnery exercises." Lt. Seeds pulled his broken, swirling plane out of the crash and coasted back to his North Island base. Capt. Walker bailed out of his crashed ship and landed safely with his parachute.

Chairman Harry Alexander
Gives Statement On Matter Today

Many of the Roll Call workers throughout residential districts have reported to Harry Alexander, the 1939 Roll Call chairman that they are receiving word from different homes they solicit that the membership has been taken up in different industries in New Castle.

Mr. Alexander wishes it clearly understood throughout the entire city that no industries are holding a Roll Call and that all memberships are to be taken in the homes. Mr. Alexander hopes that this will be clearly understood so that on calls in different neighborhoods the families will be ready with their memberships and realize that there is to be no plant solicitation this Roll Call.

Boy Dies From Suicide Wounds

New Kensington Boy Threatened With Reform School,
Inflicts Fatal Wound

(International News Service)
NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Nov. 10.—A 15-year-old boy, despondent over the threats of his father to send him to a reform school for stealing money, died today in Citizens General hospital after shooting himself in the head with a .22 caliber rifle, according to state police.

The boy, John Vashinder, shot himself in front of his eight-year-old brother, according to state police. They said he had been despondent because his father, Basil G. Vashinder, had talked of sending him to a reform school for stealing $6 from his parent.

State police said they were told John took the $6 a week ago and yesterday returned $3, explaining he had spent the remainder for candy. Then he went to school with his brother William, 8, and his sister Maricuta, 13. When they came home, John and Billy went into the barn to cut fodder. John went to the house, got his father's gun, returned to the barn, put the muzzle to his head and pulled the trigger before William could interfere. He died in the hospital eight hours later.

Legion And Red
Cross Cooperate
In Disaster Work

Perry S. Gaston Post And Lawrence County Chapter To Meet On Proposal

Recent conferences between the American Legion and the American Red Cross on cooperation in time of disaster, have resulted in approval by both organizations of a plan on this subject.

In this plan the American Legion recognizes the American Red Cross as the responsible agency for relief of families in time of disaster. In order that duplication of effort and conflict of responsibility may be avoided, the efforts of the American Legion will be concentrated toward assisting the Lawrence county chapter in perfecting their disaster relief organizations, in augmenting duly constituted civil or military authorities with auxiliary units for protection of life and property, traffic regulation and maintenance of law and order, and further in cooperating and serving with the American Red Cross in its complete disaster relief set-up.

To carry out this plan of cooperation in a major disaster, the American Legion will appoint national department and post liaison officers through whom Legion man-power and services will be made available to the American Red Cross and the Lawrence county chapter. This is a step made by the American Red Cross which will greatly assist all the chapters throughout the United States in building up splendid disaster committees.

Miss Bodenstein, executive secretary of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross, will very shortly call a meeting of the local Legion officers and her board to discuss the plans for an active disaster program for the coming year.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

We hereby set forth a synopsis of the terms of the Act of Assembly passed at the recent special session of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania relating to tax abatements. We also direct your attention to statement by County Treasurer hereto appended.

1. This Act relates to delinquent taxes for all tax years prior to 1938, but does not apply to delinquent taxes for 1938, except that in order to take advantage of the 20% annual payment plan therein provided, the 1938 taxes must be paid, with penalty and interest if delinquent, on or before December 31, 1938.

2. Said Act applies to the County of Lawrence, the Lawrence County Institution (Poor) District, the City of New Castle, every borough, township and school district within the County of Lawrence, and each of them is a separate unit, and the advantages of said Act may be taken by any taxpayer as to any unit without being required to take advantage of the same as to any other unit.

3. Taxpayers having more than one property subject to tax may take advantage of said Act in regard to any one or more of said properties without regard to whether or not he takes advantage of the same in regard to some other property belonging to him.

4. In order to take advantage of the provisions of said Act the taxpayer must accept its provisions and make payments on one or the other of the plans therein provided on or before December 31, 1938, and not afterwards.

5. Said Act applies to all taxes prior to 1938, without regard to whether or not liens for the same have been filed, or other actions instituted for the collection thereof, but it does not apply to a case where a tax sale has been made to the municipality that levied the tax, and the period of redemption has expired, and it does not apply to a case where the property has been sold at a tax sale to other than such municipality, and it does not relieve the taxpayer from the payment of the record costs for filing and satisfying liens.

6. A purchaser, including a purchaser at a sheriff's sale or judicial sale, the owner of a mortgage, or an owner having the right of redemption under a tax sale, or anyone else having an interest in the land involved, may take advantage of said Act.

7. As to all delinquent taxes for the years 1934 and prior thereto, if the provisions of said Act are complied with, both penalties and interest are abated.

8. As to taxes for the years 1935, 1936 and 1937, the penalties are abated but the interest is not abated, except as explained in the next paragraph hereof.

9. As to the taxes for the years 1935, 1936 and 1937, if advantage is taken of the 20% annual payment plan provided in said Act, interest ceases on said taxes for said years at the time of the payment of the first installment of 20%, provided the taxpayer complies with the provisions of said Act as to future payments.

10. A taxpayer desiring to take advantage of the said Act by paying all his delinquent taxes may do so without regard to whether or not the 1938 taxes are paid, but in such case all the delinquent taxes of the unit involved must be paid on or before December 31, 1938.

11. Any taxpayer may pay his delinquent taxes on the 20% annual payment plan, beginning on or before December 31, 1938 and extending over a period of five years and ending on December 31, 1942. To take advantage of this provision of the Act the taxes for 1938 must be paid on or before December 31, 1938, and the taxes for the years 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1942, must be paid before the date they become delinquent, which means the date when a penalty attaches to the tax. There are certain other provisions in the Act relating to defaults during said five year period which are not important at this time.

12. Any taxpayer who has heretofore taken advantage of any prior Abatement Act may make default under the prior Act and claim the benefits and privileges of this Act, and this is true as to any taxpayer who has heretofore defaulted in his payments under any prior Abatement Act, but this Act does not change the dates of payment under, or otherwise modify the provisions of any prior Abatement Act. If a taxpayer elects to accept the provisions of this Act as to any taxing unit, he thereby renounces his rights under any prior Abatement Act insofar as that taxing unit is concerned.

13. We wish especially to emphasize the provisions of this Act relating to the payment of the current taxes when the 20% annual payment plan is followed. These provisions are:

(a) The 1938 current taxes must be paid on or before December 31, 1938.

(b) The 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1942 current taxes must be paid before they become delinquent, and payment of the same after they have become delinquent even though they are paid before December 31, is not sufficient.

14. At the risk of repetition, we will say that the taxpayer may pay his 20% on or before December 31, provided he has not forfeited his right to do so, but that he may forfeit his right to do so in the years 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1942 by failing to pay his current taxes before they become delinquent as a general rule taxes become delinquent long before December 31, as, for example, County taxes are delinquent on September 1, and School taxes on October 1.

Respectfully submitted,
FLOYD COTTON
A. R. TURNER
GEO. H. BOLINGER
County Commissioners.

STATEMENT BY COUNTY TREASURER
All taxpayers, who wish to benefit by this Act, shall first secure a statement of their delinquent taxes from Treasurer of Lawrence County. If payment is made by check or money order, the same should be made payable to Treasurer of Lawrence County.

V. I. MANDICH,
Treasurer of Lawrence County.

GOOD TEETH HELD ESSENTIAL TO GOOD HEALTH

Perhaps no part of the body plays a greater part in the health and happiness of the individual than do the teeth. From the time the child is born, until old age carries him away, teeth have a very direct bearing on his health. Certainly few things are more surely calculated to shorten this span between birth and death than bad teeth.

The unfortunate thing is that in a great many cases the individual hasn't a great deal to do with his own teeth. They are largely the result of his forefathers. What you can do, however, is begin now to lay the foundation for the teeth of your grandchildren.

Diet, too, plays a very large part in the development of our teeth. When I say that I mean not only our diet, but that of our parents as well. Primitive peoples who live on simple foods are usually blessed with good teeth. Thus we see the Eskimos of the Arctic and the Negroes of the tropics both with splendid teeth. It is only when these peoples come under the influence of civilization, and begin to eat foods that have been deprived of their vitality in preparation, that they begin to suffer from civilized man's commonest complaint—teeth trouble.

The Eskimos live almost exclusively on meat. Any green stuff they do get is mostly from the stomachs of seals they kill. Negroes live almost exclusively on fruits and vegetables. Yet we who have both in our diet, haven't as healthy teeth as they.

Expectant mothers should start nine months before the birth of the child to eat the foods which will give the infant strong teeth. She should eat vegetables, whole-grain cereals, fruits, cod-liver oil, oranges, tomatoes. And these should be included in the diet of the new-born child as soon as it is feasible.

Raw vegetables are exceptionally good in teeth-building properties. When they are cooked, it should be in such a way that none of the properties of the vegetable is lost. Good cook books give this information in detail.

People often think that because babies are born without teeth that there is nothing that can be done for them until the teeth begin to grow. As a matter of fact, the child is born into this world with the foundation of both his baby and his permanent teeth already laid in his jaws.

Just how necessary good teeth is to the child cannot be realized until some little study is made. If his teeth are bad he cannot have good health or comfort. His looks will be impaired, his mental growth affected and correspondingly, his success in life will be affected, too.

If the child is to chew his or her food properly, then good, strong teeth are necessary. No other feature contributes more to good appearance than nice, even teeth.

On the other hand, crooked, dirty, discolored teeth often change the shape of the whole face, impair the looks and foster an inferiority complex.

November 19.

We are cordially invited to attend a presentation of "The World of Light" by Thomas B. Armstrong of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company's lamp division.

This display includes "The Evolution of Light," "New Reflector Lamps" and many other interesting features of modern light.

The above will be the program for our meeting November 22.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS B. ARMSTRONG, Sec'y.

Mission Plans To Treat Youngsters

Annual Thanksgiving Feast
Scheduled For Needy
Children

Carrying out an old tradition, the City Rescue Mission plans to provide a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner for the needy who attend its own Sunday school. The dinner will be observed Thursday, November 24.

"Many of these youngsters," Superintendent Archie Gibson said today, "won't have any Thanksgiving unless we provide it."

Friends of the Mission, he stated will be asked to help in the financial support of it.

To be eligible to attend it, Sunday school youngsters must have a good Sunday school record and be in classes on Sunday, November 20.

Contributions of foodstuffs are welcome. They should be sent to the mission at 17 South Mercer St.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The old language of diplomacy was coined mainly in the interest of political evasion. It was rich in euphemism, tricky reversible phrases, and stately and stilted pronouncements which left your head buzzing like a cage full of squirrels when you tried to figure out just what it meant. But it was, at any rate, the language of civilized intercourse.

While it may have been devised for the duck, the shift, the side-step, the feint and the right cross, it invoked high principles and it gave due regard to established amenities and decorum.

But what of the language of the new diplomacy? So far as I can learn, there is no historic precedent for the ruler of a modern state naming by name and publicity executive statesmen of another state. Chancellor Hitler, denouncing and warning Churchill and Eden has precedent in the continued vilification of democratic states by the authoritarian rulers, but virtually none in singling out this or that statesman for his invective. Certainly the chancellery's slap at Chamberlain, in his ridiculous "unbelletrizing statesman," is a novel departure in the punctilio of nations which have just entered a period of "enduring peace."

In my opinion, the fact that Chancellor Hitler's repeated personal denunciations have not been made on formal occasions of state do not alter the fact that they are essentially diplomatic forays and therefore to be judged within the established proprieties of diplomatic intercourse. With the state seizure of the press in totalitarian countries, an interperate outbreak by Der Angriff, or by Virginia Gayda in Il Duce's Il Giornale d'Italia, or by Pravda in Russia is as legitimate a state paper as any white book and infinitely more important and provocative.

Similarly, the radio, as it is now used by the iron men, is an instrument of diplomatic aggression. When Hitler assembles a vast cheering crowd and trains loudspeakers on Churchill or Eden, it is as definitely premeditated as any outgiving of the cagey little huddle of the old diplomacy. Radio and the controlled press together are making a brand of diplomacy unlike that we have ever known—as dissimilar as is a bottle-throwing session at the ball park compared to a meeting of the Supreme Court.

There has always been plenty of bickering and backbiting between the newspapers of different nations. A French cartoon of Queen Victoria caused trouble as did a Vanity Fair cartoon of the Japanese Emperor, many years later. But these incidents, possibly offenses of taste, involved individuals only and not states. They were trivial and were soon forgotten. But there is nothing trivial about a state seizing all the instrumentalities of modern communications to plaster other nations with insults.

Our newspapers—not our Department of State, or our President—have plastered Adolf Hitler, as they have taken a bolt at our own politicians whenever they felt like it. But there is an interesting point to be noted here. While totalitarian countries have reviled us as a people, we, with our not inconsiderable gift for invective, have not denounced, insulted or sneered at the Germans, Italians, Russians or Japanese. We have never criticized their peoples, although we may have assailed their form of government or their rulers—and by we, I mean free and uncensored newspaper editors and spokesmen for public opinion. In contrast we have the official German denunciation—I repeat, it is official—of America as a "nation of gangsters". Just a while back, we as a people were "gum-chewers who wore their hat in the house and put their feet on the table". In Italy, Signor Gayda, again speaking officially has been plugging for several years on the decadence, stupidity, congenital criminality and venality of the Americans as a people.

We have one great advantage over Europe. We have known too many honest, industrious, intelligent Germans and Italians to believe that these diatribes are really representative of their nations, or that they deserve a reply in kind. In a very real sense, we are no longer prisoners in the world society. The officials of our government are and always have been educated men, neither insular nor ignorant, nor do they find it necessary to be vituperative in their intercourse with other nations. We can afford to be temperate; we can afford to seek understanding; we can afford to restrain hatred and vilification; we can afford to take counsel with any nation of good will. But we cannot afford to be heedless of what is happening in the world today and we cannot afford to be unprepared.

To Have School For Potato Inspectors

Last Of Schools Conducted By State Will Be Held At Emmenton

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—The eighth and last potato inspectors training school of the present season will be held at Emmenton, Venango county, on November 22 starting at 10 a. m. The school will be in charge of D. M. James, chief inspector of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Markets, assisted by R. B. Donaldson, extension specialist of Pennsylvania State college.

Attendance at the seven previous schools has exceeded 600 and it is expected that a large group will attend the school at Emmenton, composed principally of growers and dealers who are interested in learning the exact requirements of the U. S. grades for potatoes and of others who wish to qualify as eligible to inspect potatoes under the requirements of the U. S. grades.

So far this year 3,905 hunting licenses have been issued at the county treasurer's office. This is slightly under the number issued at this time last year.

County commissioners made another trip to Hillsville yesterday in an effort to get claims for damaged gardens settled. The gardens belong to persons whose property was taken by the building of the new road.

Henry R. Mersheimer, veteran tipstaff, who underwent a serious operation last September and later suffered an abscess on his arm, is much improved. For the first time in over two months Mr. Mersheimer was able to come down town on Thursday of this week.

County Treasurer V. I. Mandich has an advertisement in this issue of The News explaining and setting forth to taxpayers the advantages of the new delinquent tax abatement law. To a reporter Mr. Mandich explained that if a taxpayer is delinquent in his 1930 county and poor tax to the extent of $20, he can save $19.20 in interest and penalties by taking advantage of the act. Again, if a taxpayer owes $50 on his 1932 school taxes, he can save $32.50. These savings are well worth while.

Tipstaff and Mrs. W. J. Cain of 313 Summer avenue are receiving the congratulations of friends at the court house on the 58th anniversary of their marriage, which occurred on Wednesday. Mr. Cain was formerly proprietor of one of the leading five and ten cent stores in the city. Later he was a floor walker at the New Castle Dry Goods store. For the past nine years he has been a tipstaff in the Lawrence county courts.

Jury Commissioners George J. Forrest and B. Frank Thorn, with their clerk, Myrtle Miller, have just finished placing 1500 names in the jury wheel for 1939. Included in the list are the names of juries which were called and excused during the present year, also the names which are in the jury wheel and which were not drawn out during the present year. Such names were re-written for the present year. Juries for the December term of common pleas court, one grand jury and two petit juries have already been drawn from the old list in the wheel. There are no more terms of common pleas court this year, so that the next juries to be drawn will be from the new list which is in the wheel. These names are drawn from the wheel at random. Each name is placed on a slip of paper which is folded. The jury commissioners and the sheriff draw out the names, and have no means of knowing whose name is being pulled out until the slip, containing the name is opened. Thus the drawing is strictly impartial.

Motion to quash an information made against Francis J. Lavery, for an alleged violation of the motor code, was made by the defendant in court today. The motion alleges that the information is vague and indefinite, and does not clearly set forth the act charged. Arguments on the motion will be heard.

LEGION OF HONOR PLANS ACTIVITIES

Plans for Legion of Honor activities were furthered at their meeting in The Cathedral Thursday evening.

W. J. Chapman and his committee announced that all arrangements for the annual turkey bazaar for Monday evening have been completed.

It was also announced that many tickets are being sold for the Cleveland visitation, December 2, when the Legion of Honor will put on the 31st and 32nd degrees, after the Canadian manner. A special train will be run to Cleveland for the evening, which will leave the East Side station at 2:30 o'clock.

Thirteen To Play Final Game For High Team Next Thursday

Roussos, Pelusak And Toscano Only So-Called Regulars To Graduate

Wealth Of Material Left For Next Year, Whole Backfield Will Be Intact

There will be 13 young men due to graduate from the New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team next Thursday afternoon at Sharon, Pa., for the final time in their scholastic football careers.

The end of the 1938 season finds 13 young men ready to leave the squad as follows—Charles "Chuck" Cialdella, Eddie Noga, Stanley Palukovich, James Toler, and Dave Greer all backfield men, and "Socks" Roussos, Eric Makihill, Matthew Raskowski, Frank Malley, Joe Pelusak, Charles Toscano, Sam Haddad and Alfonso Russo, all linemen.

Lots Of Material Back
The holdovers next year will include—Lindy Lauro, Joe Greder, Eddie Sowinski, Genarino "Dynamite" Casarino, Pleurich John Kaimis, Larry "Strack" Roberts, Orlis Burris, De Marco, Jim Rucker, Eric Adamo, Steve Gilboy, Steve Motoko and others.

Head coach Phil Bridenbaugh will no doubt have a fine team next year with the wealth of veteran material that will be back in school. Only three of the list of graduates were looked upon as regulars—Roussos, Pelusak and Toscano.

Hope For Revenge
New Castle hopes to win next Thursday and avenge that 7 to 0 defeat handed them last year at Taggart Field by the Orange and Black of Sharon High. If New Castle plays the brand of ball against Sharon that it did against Harbrack and Washington the Tigers are going to find the going awfully rough.

Sharon has been playing in tough luck the past few games, being defeated by Farrell, Warren, and Windham in a row. New Castle has won its last two games, Monessen and Martins Ferry, and have the edge on the Mercer Cougars.

Tickets for the New Castle-Sharon game have gone on sale here at the Sporting Goods Store and Senior High School. The adult reserved seats in the east side of the field bleachers will sell for 75 cents per ticket. The student tickets will sell for 25 cents.

There are about 1,200 of the adult and 500 of the student tickets available here. It was reported by Robert "Bob" Mills, ticket manager at Senior High.

WAYNESBURG WINS
Waynesburg closed the 1938 football season last night at Waynesburg with a 20 to 0 victory over the Salem, West Virginia team.

Floor Managers To Meet Tuesday

There will be a final meeting of the managers of the various teams in the City Basketball league, at the "Y" Tuesday night at 8 o'clock with Franklin Crisel, in charge.

Schedule for the league has been drawn up by Johnny Uram, and will be presented for adoption. The league will open at the Arena floor on November 27.

Ramblers Will Play Lockleys

The New Castle Ramblers and Lockley football teams will battle Sunday at the Ryantown field at 2:30 o'clock in a game that should be a good one. Both teams are evenly matched.

All of the Lockleys are asked to be at the Lockley field at 1 o'clock to make the trip to Ryantown. Members of the Rambler team are asked to meet tonight at the corner of Elm street near Gilboys at 7 o'clock for a special session with Manager Leroy Kennedy.

TURKEY SHOOT AT CATHEDRAL MONDAY

There will be a big turkey and chicken shoot at the Cathedral range on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock for members of the New Castle Rifle club, according to an announcement by Leo W. Hill.

There will be all kinds of targets, including luck targets.

PRESBYTERIANS MEET TONIGHT

There will be a meeting of the First Presbyterian church basketball team at the "Y" tonight at 7:30 o'clock it was announced by Tommy McCormick.

The Presbyterians meet the Epworth M. E. team Monday at the "Y" at 9:30 o'clock.

TEAM TO WORKOUT

The Len's basketball team of the city basketball league will have a workout tonight at 6 o'clock at the Arena floor. It was announced by Coaches Bundo Ambrosia and Peachy Fontanaro.

The following will be on the roster: Lee Gardo, Pascaretti, Greg Ross, Rozak, Colledo, Gabby DeCaprio, Conglose, V. Adamo, S. Reda, Tomasello, Biordi, Conit, Turco, Santangelo, Orelli and Yeraga.

NEW CASTLE WINS MATCH

The New Castle Rifle club went to Columbiana, O., last night and won a Penn-Ohio Rifle club match from the Ohioms with the final score of 957, which is good shooting. Thomas was high with 195. Hill had 191, Finley 190, Jess Moore 190 and Schweinsberg 190.

Bobo Regarded As Good Boxer, Lethal Socker

Pittsburgh's Best Amateur Heavyweight Battles Biro Here Monday

NICK RETARDO MEETS FLETCHER

Are the fans to see a second Joe Louis when Harry Bobo, of Pittsburgh enters the Arena ring Monday night against Joe Biro, the Youngstown slugger? Bobo is one of the best scholastic athletes in Allegheny county and in addition, captured the Sun-Tele Diamond belt tournament and also possesses the heavyweight championship of the Allegheny Mountain association of the Amateur Athletic union. Biro and he are scheduled to exchange punches in the spotlight battle of an eight-bout program here.

Harry Keck, Sports Editor of the Sun-Tele, in writing of Bobo wrote: "A sensation in the Sun-Tele's Diamond Belt amateur boxing tournament was 16-year old Harry Bobo, all-around athlete. With very little experience he entered the open class and scored a knockout over each of three opponents drawn against him to enter the Diamond Belts and A. M. A. A. U., heavyweight champion.

Pro Managers Seek Bobo
"The next day he was back at his studies and working out with the basketball squad. He also was a star back on the football team last fall. He will compete in the National A. A. U. boxing championships and already many professional boxing managers are on his trail. They see in him a potential Joe Louis. He is 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 185 pounds, is fast and a good boxer and deadly puncher."

If Biro, who weighs 207 pounds, can stand up against Bobo he surely will have returned the right to victory bouts here. Biro has won and lost here but didn't as much as argue when informed he had been mated with Bobo. Realizing that Bobo has a good reputation Biro believes that should he be returned the winner, A. A. U. rings in Pittsburgh will welcome his appearance.

Ozzie Harris, a staplemate of Bobo, will fight the hard-socking Steve Morgan, of Youngstown. Morgan's last appearance here resulted in a knockout victory over Jack Rainey. Morgan has yet to put up a slow fight and keen on slugging, he likes to coax opponents into toe-to-toe battling.

Nick Retardo of Ellwood City, another consistent performer, will take on Johnny Fletcher, another Pittsburgher at 135 pounds and Nick Cortez, stablemate of Retardo, will exchange punches with Billy Miller, Alliance, at 126 pounds.

George Simms, Youngstown, who defeated Charlie Arkett here, will fight Fred Jones, Alliance, at 135 pounds. This will be an all-colored fight and ought to bring action. Joe Devine, Alliance, will square off with Earl Tipton, Pittsburgh, a reputedly good 145-pounder.

Margaret Henry Boys Guests
Elo Poppo, Alliance and Joe Randolph, Pittsburgh, 160, another brace of newcomers are also docketed for action and judging from the renown of Bobo, assimilative qualities of Biro, heavy-socking of Morgan and desire of Harris to win, fans should see plenty of action.

All the fighters will cease heavy training today because of a likelihood of sustaining a cut above an eye or an injured hand. They will do no more galactic exercises tomorrow and be ready for the bell at 8:30 p. m. Monday.

It was announced by the Jefferson A. C. today that about one dozen boys from the Margaret Henry home will be guests of the Jefferson at the bouts. The boys are interested in clean athletics and will get their first view of a real boxing bout.

Lawrence County Banquet Planned

Jim Martin, secretary of the Lawrence County Baseball league announced today that the tentative date for the annual banquet of the league to honor the championship Bessemer team will be either the last week in January or the first week in February.

It is said that the Castleton will be the scene of the banquet this year. Alice Samuels president of the league will handle the banquet details along with a committee consisting of the various managers of the teams in the league.

Mr. Samuels will endeavor to obtain moving pictures for the evening furnished by Lou Ponsessa former big league now national professional baseball head in the United States.

ROLLER HOCKEY GAME TONIGHT

Apostoli Ascends To Middleweight Throne By Knockout In Eighth Round

BY LAWTON CALVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—This city, which is inured by this time to the unexpected in pugilistic circles, nevertheless was slightly astounded today by Freddie Apostoli's ascension to the middleweight throne last night in his battle with Young Corbett, 3rd., at Madison Square Garden. It was perhaps the silliest important fight ever staged.

In scoring an eighth round technical knockout and thus gaining New York commission recognition as world middleweight champion, Apostoli seemed to be his customarily vicious self when the chips are down, but he could have been much less tougher and still scored his win. Briefly, Corbett folded up.

Afield And Astream

Lawrence County Sportsmens Association
By "Bert" Rick

Now that the small-game hunting season is on the decline, the sportsmen of Lawrence county are looking forward to participating in the grand finale of the state's hunting privileges—the deer season.

Most of Pennsylvania's 600,000 hunters will be found concentrated in the big-game woods in keen anticipation of bagging the state's most popular game animal, the White-tail deer.

In order to combat the potential danger of the misuse of firearms and reduce to a minimum accidents which are the direct result of the improper handling of the hunting arm, precautionary measures have been inserted in the Game Code for your and my protection. All Lawrence county hunters are urged to pack in their mental kits a few timely suggestions on safety precaution which, unheeded, might mar an otherwise pleasurable trip.

The transportation of loaded firearms in any vehicle on the public highways is at all times forbidden. A provision in the new game code prohibits the carrying of any firearm capable of discharging a single pellet or ball larger than a 22 caliber long rifle between 5:00 p. m. and 7:00 A. M. in a vehicle, unless in a case or taken apart and securely wrapped—except that this provision does not apply one day before or two days after any big-game hunting season. Except during the open season for big game, rifle cartridges and shot gun shells larger than 22 caliber long rifle and BB respectively, are not permitted to be transported in any vehicle on a public highway between 5:00 P. M. and 7:00 A. M. unless securely wrapped or contained in unbroken cartons.

Shooting at game on a public highway or shooting over a highway open to the public for travel, unless the line of fire is at such an elevation as to preclude any danger to users, is also banned. Care should be exercised in firing along trails or forest aisles at game for fear that another hunter may be approaching. Dragging a gun through the brush or over a fence after you have passed is always dangerous and results in many fatalities—keep the muzzle pointed away from you and your companions. While resting, always be sure to break your gun or open the bolt, test it fall from its support and be accidentally discharged, or test your dog, in showing his affection, jump and accidentally press the trigger.

If your partner insists on keeping a loaded firearm in the camp, get rid of him and select one whose better sense might prolong your life. Shooting at game that is not in plain view or shooting when visibility is poor should never be attempted—in your excitement you might accidentally draw a bead upon your hunting pal or kill an illegal deer, either of which may cost you a heavy fine or imprisonment. The killing of a human being in mistake for game is no longer an accident. Never shoot at random throughout the woods—the bullet may travel for miles or ricochet from a tree trunk to find its way to an unsuspecting victim.

Be sure that your rifle or shotgun is in first class mechanical condition before taking it into the woods. A burst receiver or splintered stock can result in painful, if not, severe injury. Barrels clogged with snow or mud, will when discharged, part company with their owner.

Benefit Game Is Postponed Till Wednesday

Inclement Weather Forces Postponement Of Benefit Grid Game At Stadium

Due to incessant rain last evening, the scheduled Wabash Bears and Brown Bombers of New Brighton benefit football game at Taggart Stadium was called off until next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

The decision to call off the game was reached at 7 o'clock, after a conference of the following members of the benefit committee: Chairman Austin Cowmeadow, Franklin R. Crisel, Art Alexander, Emmett Gillespie, Bill Wallace, and George Binder, together with Skip Russo and Willie Domenico of the Wabash Bears.

The Bears will have practice sessions next Monday and Tuesday at 4:30 o'clock at the E. & A. field. The entire Wabash team will go to Beaver Falls Sunday to see the Brown Bombers and Delawares play for the championship of the Beaver Valley.

Boosters Open Season Nov. 27

Duquesne, Westminster College, W. And J., Buffalo Among Teams On Schedule

Basketball is definitely on the "up-grade" in New Castle.

The finishing touch has been provided by the New Castle Boosters club, a quintet organized by Tony Tino and coached by "Fris" Fraser. The roster is composed of Lawrence county's outstanding basketball players. The squad includes Tom Carey, Johnny Carik, "Chink" Dutkin, Emil Grommes, "pop" Adams, "Blackie" Nocera, "Slim" Wainio, Elmer Wainio, Gilliland, former Westminster player, Johnny Uram and Hutchison.

Tino, who has remained in the sports background for several years, formed the team for the purpose of boosting New Castle and to give New Castle sports fans the finest basketball attractions possible. The team will play all its home games on The Arena floor, Grove street.

Tino today announced that he has booked six top notch attractions. The team makes its debut on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 27, playing the Youngstown Sheet & Tube team, composed mostly of former Westminster college aces, including Paul Backus, Demo and Sweeney. A brief program will be presented shortly before the start of the opener. Ralph H. Gardner, former faculty manager of New Castle high athletes, and George Patterson of Ellwood City will deliver brief addresses.

On Friday evening, December 2, at 8:30 o'clock, Duquesne university's varsity quintet will oppose the locals. The Dukes will have another typical powerful Chick Davies team. On Sunday afternoon, December 4, the Irwin Tcoo quintet of Irwin, Pa., appears here. Clark McClelland, former New Castle high and Slippery Rock star cager, plays center for Irwin. Westminster college has been booked for a game here on Friday evening, December 9. The Boosters are slated to appear in Washington, Pa., to battle the W. & J. freshmen team in a preliminary engagement. The Buffalo, N. Y., Bisons have also been scheduled for a game later in the season.

Fishing Champions For Year Listed

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—With the 1938 season for game fish in Pennsylvania about to close, the fish commission today announced the angler honor roll of fishermen making record catches during the season.

Topping the "big whoppers" caught was a 40-pound muskellunge, "the tiger of the freshwater," taken in Edinboro Lake, Erie County. Nine anglers and one anglerette comprised the list of Pennsylvania fishing champions.

By categories they were:
Brook Trout—length 20 1/2 inches, weight 3 pounds 8 ounces. Caught by Arthur Howells, Tamaqua, in Kunkel's Dam, Schuylkill County.

Rainbow Trout—length 21 1/2 inches, weight 4 pounds 15 ounces. Caught by Fred Laird, Lock Haven, in Fishing Creek, Clinton County.

Brown Trout—length 28 1/2 inches, girth 16 inches, weight 4 pounds. Caught by David Mills, Milesburg, in Spring Creek, Centre County.

Smallmouth Bass—length 22 inches, girth 15 1/2 inches, weight 5 pounds 6 ounces. Caught by John Fayette, Lake Lynn, in Lake Lynn, Fayette County.

Largemouth Bass—length 23 inches, girth 16 1/2 inches, weight 7 pounds 12 ounces. Caught by John Kane, Yatesville, Schuylkill County, in Stillwater Lake, Monroe County.

Wall-Eyed Pike—length 30 inches, weight 9 pounds 8 ounces. Caught by Leslie Singer, Ralston, in Lake Wallenpaupack, in Pike and Wayne Counties.

Muskellunge—length 52 inches, weight 40 pounds. Caught by Fred Meiz, Meadville, in Edinboro Lake, Erie County.

Crappie—length 18 inches, girth 15 inches, weight 3 pounds 4 ounces. Caught by Miss Mamie Nauman, Springdale, in Edinboro Lake, Erie County.

Bullhead Catfish—length 19 inches, weight 3 pounds 4 ounces. Caught by Jack Grucki, Schuylkill Haven, in Dock Pond, Schuylkill County.

Yellow Perch—length 15 1/2 inches, weight one pound 11 ounces. Caught by Lawrence Lehr, Bethlehem.

Antlerless Deer Season To Open On November 28

Decision Of Dauphin Court Opens Doe Season November 28 To December 3

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Pennsylvania nineros primed their guns for deer today following a decision in the Dauphin county court approving the antlerless deer season scheduled to open November 28 and close December 3. There would be no appeal from the decision, it was stated.

Judge Henry C. Niles, of York county, dismissed a suit in equity brought by a group of sportsmen from Franklin, Adams, Cumberland and York counties seeking to prevent the state game commission from holding a statewide open season on deer.

Will Not Protect
Sterling C. McNeas, representing the sportsmen's group, said he would not contest the decision. The complaining hunters were ordered to pay court costs.

McNeas' group claimed that deer were scarce in the four counties named and in the South Mountain range and asked that these territories be kept closed. An adverse court decision last year forced the commission to call off a scheduled open season on antlerless deer in certain counties and refund fees collected.

On Friday evening, December 2, at 8:30 o'clock, Duquesne university's varsity quintet will oppose the locals. The Dukes will have another typical powerful Chick Davies team. On Sunday afternoon, December 4, the Irwin Tcoo quintet of Irwin, Pa., appears here. Clark McClelland, former New Castle high and Slippery Rock star cager, plays center for Irwin. Westminster college has been booked for a game here on Friday evening, December 9. The Boosters are slated to appear in Washington, Pa., to battle the W. & J. freshmen team in a preliminary engagement. The Buffalo, N. Berman Gives New York Model Chance In Movies

By MILTON HARKER

(Copyright 1938)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19.—A beautiful model who won a movie contract because a studio executive happened to see her posing when he went into a swank New York shop to buy a purse for his wife has landed in town without trumpets or fanfare and is wondering already just where she is going to fit.

Her name is Ethyl Haworth. She's 23 and is a native of Pittsburgh, Pa. She insists she's not a bit excited at becoming another Alice in Wonderland, but she's taking everything in through wide-open hazel-green eyes.

"There's never any sense of getting excited until you've done something," Ethyl said. "When I've accomplished something, then I'll get excited."

She never had any thoughts of getting into the movies when she left Pittsburgh two years ago to model in New York. She is so beautiful she was given an assignment posing the first day an agency signed her.

The closest she came to movie work was when she doubled for Joan Bennett in driving a milk wagon up New York's Fifth avenue. Then one day last March Jan Berman RKO's production head, was out doing the bit of shopping which makes this story. He happened to look up from the counter and there was Ethyl, her five feet, five and 111 pounds sleek in a gorgeous gown.

Berman dropped the purse he was about to buy, introduced himself and asked her if she wanted to go into the movies.

Ethyl thought at first he was playing a prank but when she became convinced of his true identity she said very simply:

"Yes."

So she took the long list of required tests in a New York studio and here she is.

"I've never had any acting experience so I don't know just what I'm going to do," she said. "I think I would be better in something light. I can see in the two weeks I've been here that you have to have a lot of training and experience to do dramatic roles."

"I think Hollywood is tremendously fascinating. Most of all I want to be on the inside instead of just observing it as I am now."

Ginger Rogers, whom she met in New York, has been entertaining Ethyl a great deal. Ginger lives way down a hill and to Ethyl the view from there "is the most beautiful thing I have ever seen."

And the town looked so vast she's sure there is a niche in it for a girl who wants very badly to make good.
